Capsule Description

Fall 2025 plays off the introduction to deep colors with rich undertones. I chose a pallet leading with the strong storm color and then complemented it with a red dahlia, Demitasse was my choice and prediction of stepping in as the new black. Egret gives the opportunity to polish the line and gives color choice providing dimension to sheer chiffon accents on the chocolate ruffle dress. I chose cumin to spice up the richness of the deep hues with a little warmer tone that loves the diversity of skin tones.

Trends are moving into a revitalization of the sleek early 2000's silhouettes. Tiktok influencers have been pushing the early 2000's for the last several months in line with rising music stars like The Dare. Now it is trickling into fashion through draping and rouching to celebrate the sexy yet mysterious curves of the body. These trends can be seen in brands like Haider Akerman's new direction with Tom Ford and Bottega Veneta's slick luxury.
